Primitive Pursuits of Cornell Cooperative Extension of Tompkins County's 4-H Youth Development Summer Camp 2010

Primitive Pursuits is an environmental education and nature awareness program focusing on experiential ecology, primitive skills, and a natural model of community building. We are pleased to offer 12 programs this summer: 9 Wks at 4-H Acres on Lower Creek Road in Ithaca, two Wks in the Finger Lakes National Forest near Trumansburg, two overnights and one Wk exploring natural areas around Tompkins County. Some Wks are 4 days while most run Monday – Friday. Open to Youth ages 6-16 unless other wise noted.

Wildcrafting I&II June 28th – July 2nd & August 23rd-August 27th

Harvesting and crafting the raw materials of the land is the focus this week. Our hands and creative minds will keep busy as we transform wood, stone, feathers, and bones with water, fire, and steel. In gratitude for what each unique week has to offer we'll eat roots and drink teas that nourish our growth. You will take home crafts made with seasonally available resources along with stories to last a life time.

Scout I&II July 5th – July 9th & August 2nd – 6th

Traveling light, finding your edges, coming to your senses, and moving invisibly through the landscape are skills that belong to the ancient scouts. In these two weeks we will hone our own skills of self-reliance through challenges and awareness routines. We will read more deeply into the landscape, camouflage with our surroundings, learn aidless navigation techniques and practice mastering our skills on the move.

Primitive Camp July 12th – 16th

For all those kids who ever scorned using matches! This is your chance to find out what it would take to replace your gear in a REAL survival situation. We will travel to uncharted territory and create a new primitive camp from raw materials. Try your hand at using stone tools, build a rain proof shelter and go home with your own primitive fire kit.

Advanced Primitive July 19th – July 22nd (4 day program)(ages 9+)

Journey to our new primitive outpost camp for an advanced immersion in wilderness living. Prior experience is not required, but we are offering this only to older youth. We'll be making stone blades, harvesting meals from the wild and preparing for an optional overnight campout.

Primitive Overnight July 22nd – 23rd (ages 10+)

Bringing together the threads woven in Advanced Primitive participants will have the option of spending a night in a group survival shelter. Led by our most experienced wilderness instructors, this is a not to be missed opportunity!

Hunter-Gatherer I&II August 9th – 13th & August 16th – 20th

"For three million years we were hunter gatherers, and it was through that way of life that a brain so adaptable and so creative eventually emerged. Today we stand with the brains of hunter gatherers in our heads, looking out on a modern world..." -Richard Leakey

Summon the sleeping human within! Reawaken your ancestral self while using the tools of the ancient hunters: atl-atl, rabbit stick and bow. Explore plant knowledge through caretaking and harvesting from the field and the forest. This week we will be joined by special guests who have mastered some of these ancient arts. Participants may complete a special project, such as a bow or planting stick, under the guidance of a craftsman.

Wilderness I&II July 26th – 30th & August 23rd – 26th (wilderness II is a 4 day program)

Travel with us into the wilderness of the Finger Lakes National Forest. Celebrate the peak of summer feasting on blueberries, tracking beavers, telling tall tails around the fires and navigating the boundless resources of this public land. Going beyond "survival", this will be a time to learn about caring for our forest while caring for ourselves.

Wilderness Overnight August 26th – 27th (ages 10+)

During our second week in the wilderness, older participants will have the option of spending a night in a solo survival shelter of their own making. This will be an opportunity to safely test all the skills they have practiced under the guidance of our most experienced wilderness instructors.

Call of the WILD July 19th – 22nd (4 day program)

"He was sounding the deeps of his nature, and of the parts of his nature that were deeper than he, going back into the womb of Time." - Jack London, "The Call of the Wild"

Listen carefully and you will hear the call of the wild within. With the animals as our guides we will follow our instincts, play hard, laugh loud and take time to go "where the wild things are". A special focus this week on personal expression through stories, songs and movement will deepen our connection to nature.

Trailblazers August 30th – Sept 3rd (ages 9+)

On the road with Primitive Pursuits! Picking up the trail of our most popular school year program, we are offering this summer adventure program for the first time ever. Meet downtown at Cooperative Extension, jump into a van and head out to a different wilderness area each day. Discover uncharted wilderness all around Ithaca that you never knew existed, while you continue practicing your routines of gathering shelter, water fire and food in all kinds of terrain. Please note that as groups are limited to 10 participants, space in this program is Extremely Limited. Please register early to reserve your space.
